Cultivating Tomorrow's Teachers

Setting the Standard

Students who are inspired to become educators will have a diverse and high-quality training pathway. They will be prepared to meet the needs of all students, including those with special needs, and will be equipped with the skills and knowledge to lead and inspire their students.

Preparing Our Kids to Succeed Beyond

Increasing the diversity of our educators so students can see themselves reflected in their teachers.

Allowing students to learn from educators who trained with the district's core values of equity, cultural proficiency, diversity and inclusion, student-centered learning, and social and emotional learning, and brain-based trauma-informed instruction.

Growing the pool of bilingual educators.
